Salus Joins Drexel for Phase I of Merger Agreement

The Middle States Commission on Higher Education (MSCHE) has approved the merger of Salus University with Drexel. With institutional accreditors, Pennsylvania Department of Education, and judicial approvals granted, Salus students, faculty and professional staff have now joined the Drexel community.

As part of this approval effective June 30, 2024, Salus non-academic, operational units became part of Drexel’s structure. Drexel is currently awaiting approvals from the U.S. Department of Education for the merger and combination of our two universities for purposes of participating in federal financial aid programs. We expect to receive the second of those two approvals on or about June 30, 2025. Until that time, Salus will maintain its student programs/course offerings, registration, billing and financial aid systems.
