Malvern Resident Named Clinical Educator at Speech-Language Institute of Salus University

Elkins Park, Pa. – Kimberly Edmonds, MS, CCC-SLP, of Malvern, Pa., was recently named a clinical educator at the Speech-Language Institute (SLI) of Salus University.

In her new role, Edmonds will oversee speech-language pathology students in Salus University's College of Education and Rehabilitation as they provide therapy services for clients at SLI.

Edmonds earned her bachelor's degree in Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology from Indiana University of Pennsylvania and her master's degree in Communication Disorders from Arizona State University.

Bilingual in Spanish, she has worked with children and families from a wide range of cultural and linguistic backgrounds. Edmonds also has experience in a variety of settings including public schools, birth to age three programs, pre-school early intervention, and pediatric medical facilities.

In addition to her position at SLI, Edmonds works as an independent contractor performing bilingual speech-language evaluations in the Philadelphia region. She also serves on the executive board of the Pennsylvania Speech-Language Hearing Association.
