

Salus University President Presented Inaugural Aerospace Optometry Award

Elkins Park, Pa. – Salus University president Michael H. Mittelman, OD '80, MPH, MBA, FAAO, FACHE, was recognized as the inaugural recipient of the Rear Admiral (RADM) Michael H. Mittelman Award for Excellence in Navy Aerospace Optometry at this year's Aerospace Medical Association (AsMA) conference, Navy luncheon in Chicago.

Throughout his entire career, Dr. Mittelman has been an advocate for aerospace optometry in the aerospace medical community and was thrilled to have an award named in his honor at the AsMA conference. "I was absolutely honored and humbled by the entire experience," he said. "One of many high points was reconnecting with old shipmates and friends at the award ceremony."

Photo caption: Dr. Michael Mittelman (far right), Salus University president, being recognized as the inaugural recipient of the Rear Admiral (RADM) Michael H. Mittelman

Award for Excellence in Navy Aerospace Optometry at this year's Aerospace Medical Association (AsMA) conference, Navy luncheon in Chicago.

###

About Salus University

Salus University, founded as the Pennsylvania College of Optometry in 1919, today is a diversified, globally recognized professional academic center of learning that offers a wide range of degree programs in the professions of Optometry, Audiology, Physician Assistant, Blindness and Low Vision Studies, Biomedicine, Occupational Therapy, Speech-Language Pathology and Orthotics and Prosthetics. Salus operates three clinical facilities in Philadelphia and Montgomery counties that provide highly specialized vision, hearing and balance and speech-language pathology. The University has more than 1,200 students, and more than 14,000 alumni worldwide. For more information, please visit www.salus.edu.