

Salus University Presents the 2023 Lighthouse Award to Dr. Susan Oleszewski at Annual Fundraiser Event

Elkins Park, Pa. – Dr. Susan Oleszewski, professor emeritus, Pennsylvania College of Optometry (PCO), received the Lighthouse Award at Salus University’s 16th annual Looking Out for Kids (LOFK) charity fundraiser on November 11, 2023, at the Switch House at the Battery in Philadelphia.

The event raised funds for Salus University’s LOFK initiative, which supports economically disadvantaged, underinsured, and/or uninsured children in need of vision and hearing services in Philadelphia, and for the last decade, its surrounding counties.

Dr. Susan Oleszewski is a Pennsylvania College of Optometry (PCO) alumna, who before retiring in 2019 spent four decades in various academic, clinical and administrative roles at PCO, The Eye Institute (TEI), PCO’s main clinical facility, and then Salus. In 2007, she founded the LOFK charity initiative while executive director of Patient Care Services at TEI.

Photo caption: Dr. Susan Oleszewski, professor emeritus, (right) being presented the 2023 Lighthouse Award by Dr. Anthony Di Stefano, vice president emeritus, (left) for her contributions to the Looking Out for Kids charity initiatives at Salus University.

###

About Salus University

Salus University, founded as the Pennsylvania College of Optometry in 1919, today is a diversified, globally recognized professional academic center of learning that offers a wide range of degree programs in the professions of Optometry, Audiology, Physician Assistant, Blindness and Low Vision Studies, Biomedicine, Occupational Therapy, Speech-Language Pathology and Orthotics and Prosthetics. Salus operates three clinical facilities in Philadelphia and Montgomery counties that provide highly specialized vision, hearing and balance and speech-language pathology. The University has more than 1,200 students, and more than 14,000 alumni worldwide. For more information, please visit www.salus.edu.