Area School Principal Receives Salus University Alumni Award

Elkins Park, Pa. – Sister Lisa Ann Lettiere, IHM, Med, TVI, COMS, principal of Saint Lucy Day School for Children with Visual Impairment, has been named Blindness and Low Vision Studies Alumna of the Year for 2018.

Sister Lettiere received her Master's degree in Education in Blindness and Visual Impairment from Salus, as well as a certificate in the University's Orientation and Mobility program. Last summer, when she was unable to recruit a middle school teacher in time for the start of the school year, she stepped into the role while maintaining her administrative role as principal.

Prior to becoming principal of St. Lucy's, she taught every grade from first through eighth.
